00:31:00 Robert – one of first rules once this [rule book] is written and approved by Assembly very first rule is ‘no completely striking out of any rule’ if there is going to be change, amending verbiage has to refer back to original rule so we don’t lose context & intent, very important rule so things cannot be done by word creeping, leave out a word, adjective, descriptor you lose contextual intent & eventually lose the whole rule, Kerry (Utah) repeat the motion, Matt (Ohio) committee of whole or select volunteer committee with input from all states, Ron (Oklahoma) originator of this – intent was procedure to get business done without confusion – has to be some sense about getting ideas across – forum a good way – should not be done in fast order –
